Build a Real Estate Career in One of Colorado's Most Exciting Markets
KW Mountain Properties | Edwards & the Vail Valley Corridor

The Opportunity

The Vail Valley is one of the most desirable real estate markets in the country — a luxury mountain corridor where the average transaction puts serious money in an agent's pocket. Whether you've never considered real estate before, or you're already licensed and looking for a better home, this is your opportunity to build something real.

Your Path to Getting Licensed

Getting your Colorado real estate license is more straightforward than most people think. Here's exactly what it looks like:

Step 1

Complete Your 168-Hour Pre-Licensing Course

Through our complimentary K-Score scholarship program, KW covers the cost of your pre-licensing education entirely. This is a self-paced online course — you have 6 months to complete it on your own schedule. Most people finish in 8–12 weeks.

Step 2

Pass the National & Colorado State Exams

Once you complete the course, you'll sit for two exams: the National Real Estate Exam and the Colorado State Exam. Both cover real estate law, practice, and state-specific requirements. Your K-Score coursework prepares you for both.

Step 3Get Up and Running

Budget approximately $5,000 to cover your state licensing fees, board dues, MLS access, and initial business startup costs. This is your full investment to launch a career with unlimited earning potential.

Step 4Join KW Mountain Properties

You'll be plugged into KW's world-class training platform, technology suite, and a team of experienced agents in the Vail Valley. From day one, you're in business for yourself — but never by yourself.

Why KW Mountain Properties?

The Market: You'll be operating in one of Colorado's premier luxury real estate corridors. The Vail Valley attracts second-home buyers, investors, and high-net-worth clients from across the country.

The Training: Keller Williams is ranked the #1 real estate training organization in the world. From your first day to your first million in volume, there's a proven curriculum for every stage.

The Technology: KW Command gives you a full CRM, marketing platform, and business dashboard — all included. No extra tech fees to get started.

The Culture: We are a team, not a brokerage. Agent success is our business model. Your wins are our wins.

The Leadership: You'll have direct access to a team leader who personally closed over $25 million in sales last year and knows this market inside and out.

Already Licensed? Let's Talk.

If you already hold a Colorado real estate license — or are licensed in another state — the conversation is even simpler. You skip Step 1 entirely. We'll sit down, talk through where you are in your business, what's not working, and whether KW Mountain Properties is the right fit to take you further. No pressure. Just a real conversation.
